

Flow's mission is to provide consultants, startups and software houses with a competitive Smalltalk full-stack framework that allows them to quickly deliver a demo with all the modern html5 features the market expects today (2014). The idea is that they can tactically use this framework to keep momentum up among their prospects and clients and scale things to full successful projects delivered by kick-ass productive teams or individuals.

Fork the project repository here:

<https://github.com/flow-stack/flow>

flow

A living full-stack framework for the web.

Frontend

Amber + some libs
Smalltalk brought to the web

Backends

Not seeing your favorite there?
Talk with us!

